Give us a call to arrange a chat about planning your support through the NDIS. No matter what stage you are at, we can assist.

preparing for your plan

If you haven't received your NDIS funding yet, but have started thinking about your planning meeting with the NDIA, talk to us. We can chat with you about some of the things you might like to think about when working out what supports you need and what goals are important to you.

your plan

We can support you with many areas of your plan and we know that you will need to access other support networks.

Our goal is to support you where you want us to and connect you with other networks that you want to work with.

reviewing your plan

Time for your plan to be reviewed?

We can help you through this process and assist with preparing for your review meeting.

It is important that you are clear about what support you want to continue with, change or add to your plan.
